SUNDAY BASEBALL FOR WASHINGTON

Commissioners Lift Ban on Professional Sports in District

ACTION TAKEN TODAY

Washington, May 14. Washington is to have Sunday base The Commissioners of the District of Columbia today lifted the ban on professional sports. The reason given for the action is that there are so many persons in the city who have no means of getting recreation.

No action was taken by the National Commission of baseball today, but it is likely that the American League schedule will be changed considerably to allow some of Washington's games to be played on the Sabbath. Probably all the postponed games scheduled for this city and some of those between the Athletics and New York Yankees, which were to have been played in Philadel-phia and New York, will be transferred here, so that a full season of Sunday games may be played.

games may be played.

At present there is no professional basebal played in the East by the major leagues, although the Polo Grounds in New York, Fenway Park and Braves Field in Boston are being used on Sunday by men in the service for baseball and other athletic contests.

BONESETTER REESE Giants' Hurler Has Tendon

FERDIE SCHUPP VISITS

Pulled-Ordered to Rest Week

Pittsburgh, May 14 Ferdie Schupp he Giant's youtliful southpaw, whose sitching arm has been troubling him all spring, said a visit to Bonsetter Rerse. in Youngstown, O., yesterday

The famous bonesetter, after a close examination of the arm, found that the young pitcher had pulted a tendon close to the shoulder. He snapped the tendon back into place and ordered Schupp to refrain from pitching for at least a week after which, he said, the arm would again he as good as ever.

Schupp reported last week that the injured arm felt a trifle better than it had, but he injured it anew in an exhibition game at Akron yesterday.

Metiraw, however, has any number of first-class pitchers, and the failure of Ferdie to round into form is not being feit. The youldful southpaw is a frail youngster, and there are many who claim that he needs at teast four days' rest between each game he pitches.

One of the most popular and likable of the younger professionals, he is already in high favor at Flymouth. He knows the game thoroughly and what is more he is able to impart his knowledge to his pupils.

There are many other changes among the professional at Bon Air. Jim Starr, who was the professional at Haddon Country Club, has taken the professional job at Overbrook, replacing J. J. Dougherty, now in the national service. Alee Douglas, who was limine Thompson's clubmaker at the Philadelphia Country Club, is now at Haddon Country Club, is Monomory, 14, 1888
